

Central Safety Group Meeting

February 2020

Rebuilding safety culture – a case study

Book Now

What: Rebuilding safety culture – a case study

Who: Mary Kikas, Action OHS Consulting

Details: When employee morale, trust and job satisfaction plummet in the wake of major changes, how do you restore a strong safety culture? Mary Kikas faced that exact challenge when asked to help the Health and Safety team of a utilities company that had undergone a significant change management process and redundancies.

She will outline what happened in a presentation to the Central Safety Group at its first lunchtime meeting for the year on Tuesday 11 February 2020.

Mary will discuss the principles and approach adopted and the setbacks and obstacles that had to be overcome. In addition, she will describe step-by-step what it took to drive effective risk management and improve safety culture.

The presentation will be followed by a brief Annual General Meeting of CSG, to which all 2019 Financial Members are invited to attend.
