What: OHS job market analysis

Who: Helen O'Keefe, Director, HOK Talent Solutions

Details: If you are interested in what's happening in the current OHS job scene, either as a job seeker or employer, you'll appreciate this presentation by Helen O'Keefe, Managing Director of HOK Talent Solutions, which exclusively specialises in health and safety recruitment. She will share her insights about the OHS job scene from 2023, and talk through some of the challenges and opportunities she predicts will emerge for both hiring managers and job-seekers in the year ahead.

Helen will share data her company has collected, which details the number of OHS jobs advertised across SEEK and LinkedIn (the two most popular job boards) in 2023, and how that compares to 2022. This data is cross-checked against reports released from the ABS, SEEK and other sources to understand the "why" behind it. Helens' presentation will include an opportunity for questions and discussion..

The presentation will be followed by the 2023 AGM for Financial Members.
