Book Now

What: Challenging mainstream OHS views

Who: Kevin Jones, Editor, SafetyAtWorkBlog

Details: We can always count on Kevin Jones to broaden our horizons via new books and publications on a range of topics. His presentation to Central Safety Group on Tuesday 10 June 2025 will be no exception.

Kevin's discussion will include publications that are not directly related to OHS, but provide valuable insights that can stimulate an OHS professional's thinking about their approach to OHS.

By challenging mainstream views on topics such as leadership, Kevin aims to inspire discussion and widen our knowledge of important topics.

Kevin's overview will include topics directly related to OHS as well, such a recent study about employee well-being and mental health.

The presentation will be followed by a question and discussion session.
